He Came, He Sang, He Conquered All

Lanny Ross Captivates Large Assembly In Oak Room Of Village Inn With His Pleasing Personality And Magnetic Singing — Wonderful Floor Show Presented.

It was really an Irish Frolic at The Village Inn on Monday night when that great American singing star, Lanny Ross, featured the opening of Peggy O'Neill's new Supper Club, in The Beautiful Oak Room. Green was the predominant color scheme and Irish songs were the lulling tunes of the evening.

Lanny Ross received a great reception from the large crowd that filled every seat at the many beautifully decorated tables. The Irish Thru opened his programme with that beautiful ballad "Moonlight and Roses" and followed with "My Little Girl in Calico," "The Anniversary Waltz," and the "Irish Leprechaun."

At 11:15 sharp Lanny went on the air over CHML direct from the Oak Room. As Miss O'Neill stepped to the microphone to introduce the maestro of song the orchestra played "Sweet Peggy O'Neill" and

Facts and Fancies

BY FRANK FAIRBORN, JR.

LET'S FACE FACTS

Now that the tumult and shouting has died down, over the "tremendous" increase in the tax rate caused by the Board of Education, which they did not create, let us sit down with a pencil and paper and do a little figuring.

When Ex-Mayor Edric S. Johnson assumed the mantle of Mayorship in January of 1938 he and his Council were faced with a 62 mills on the dollar rate; they were faced with a citizenry in the throes of a depression; they were faced with a citizenry that were ready to throw in the towel and call it quits. But with that bull dog British Spirit the "Little Fellow" and his Council buckled in and when he retired from office in December of 1944 he left the town in a wonderful financial situation and with a tax rate of 29 mills.

With all due respect to Mayor Henry Bull, for no more honest, conscientious citizen ever sat in the Chief Magistrate's chair of Grimsby Village or Town, but he allowed Council in 1945, and possibly he was right, to reduce the tax rate to 25 mills.

The afternoon, of the morning that The Independent flaunted to the world the fact that Grimsby had a 25 mill rate, a very solid gentleman, well versed in municipal affairs, stopped me on the street and said "that is a lovely picture on your front page, that 25 mills, but would we have not been better off to have stayed at the 29 mill rate?" I answered him frankly by saying, "Yes, I believe that we would have been, but I am not sitting on Town Council and therefore cannot tell you positively whether we will be better off or worse off. Council knows best." I do not mind telling you that that man knew, where I did not know. We would have been better off had we stayed at Mayor Johnson's 29 mills.

Then in 1946 Mayor Bull and Council made a mistake. I think they can see it today. They kept the mill rate at 32 mills when it should have been 36 or even 37 mills. In order to keep the rate at 32 mills they sold $6,000 worth of government bonds that Mayor Johnson and his council had accumulated. Would we not have been better off to have made the mill rate in 1946 at 36 or 37 mills and kept those bonds instead of selling them and placing the rate at 32 mills?

I may be as wrong as rain, but I call the whole procedure false economy. Or in the words of the Old Sage, "Penny Wise and Pound Foolish" financiers.

Had our tax rate last year been 36 mills then our jump this year would have only been nine mills instead of 13 and we still would have had those $6,000 worth of bonds.

There is no use of you or me trying to say that the tax rate is not going to go up. It is. I told you in these columns two years ago that it would go up. It is going up in every municipality in Ontario, and in 98 per cent of the cases higher than Grimsby. Why? Because Mayor Johnson got the Grimsby rate down to a low level, a low foundation that could be built upon. Other towns did not do the same. The consequences are that while our rate is going up, and it will go still higher next year, so is the rate in other towns, but theirs is going higher than ours because they did not have as low a level foundation to build upon that we had.

I hold no brief for the Board of Education. The only brief that I hold is for the people of the Town of Grimsby at large. Now do not let anybody run away with the idea that the Board of Education is the mainpring in this jump of 13 mills in the tax rate. They are not. Even had they gotten the full amount of their requisition they would have caused only a seven mill jump. They did not get what they asked for, they got only three and a half mills. County of Lincoln gets four mills; the town loses two mills on the amount of transfer money from the Water Commission; that only leaves the town three and a half mills for the general administration of the municipality, insofar as the 13 mill jump is concerned.

I do not believe that the citizens of this town want Grimsby to become stagnated. So far as I am concerned and so far as this newspaper is concerned Grimsby IS NOT going to become stagnated and certain people that have that idea in their noogies had just better get segregated from that senseless theme PRONTO.

Just while we are on this question of taxation, where the Board of Education seems to be so vitally concerned, let us look into the future. I do not mean 1975. I mean 1948-49-50 and years beyond that.

Do you citizens realize that you are faced with the construction of a four or six room addition to your Public School, or else the construction of a new four or six room school in some other section of the town in order to take care of the ever growing population of children.

You nor I cannot stop this growth of good British subjects. And who wants to anyway. Then do not overlook the fact that people are clamouring to come to Grimsby to live, that means more kids. All right let them come, but provide the accommodation for them, particularly the public school rooms.

At the present time Grimsby Public School is crowded to the cloak rooms. Each and every room has 40 or more pupils in it, whereas, in the parlance of the army, they are away "over strength." Government regulations say "28 pupils to a room as a maximum."

Citizens, I give you this information so that you absolutely know where you stand. You are faced within the next 18 months of constructing a new addition to the Public School, or the erection of a new Public School. Personally, I prefer the latter, because it would cause a large number of young kiddies to be kept away from the heavy traffic arteries.

Next week I will tell you something more about this whole situation, but in the meantime get your pencil and paper out and start to figure. Thinkers are not going to be so black in 1948 as you might think and I will tell you why in future editions of Facts and Fancies.

IN ACTON

The Peach Kings dropped the first game of the two game, goals to count, series with the Acton Tanners by a three to two score. The Peach Kings deserved a win on their play, however they did not win, and many of the experts give these three reasons.

First, that the ice was "heavy," thereby hampering the speed and smooth-passing plays, which are a part and parcel of this year's Kings.

Second, A cheap first goal by the Tanners, and the complete lack of breaks in the second period, made things a trifle rough for the Kings.

Third, The Acton goalie, who from all reports from Acton followers, played way over his head. He looked pretty good on numerous occasions to this department.

IN GRIMSBY

Well, the Peach Kings have won round two. Midst frantic fanfare, the high pitched screech of soprano voices, the Peaches came through with a seething victory over the Acton Tanners, taking the hard fought round by six goals to four. The Grimsby score was four to one.

The two goal margin by which the Kings took the round, was decisive enough, and the crimson tide fought for every break, for every goal, and every inch, the whole way through, and are without a doubt the better of the two teams.

We recall not so long ago, a conversation with Pop McVicar, at which time the restless one stated that, "with the three forward lines functioning smoothly, and with the defense playing the type of hockey that he has been drilling into them all season, this team would take a powerful lot of beating by any other intermediate "B" club in the Province of Ontario." Needless to say, the whole team played a well organized and perfectly executed game of hockey.

BOLD SNEAK THIEF PULLS DAYLIGHT ROBBERY

Quietly Enters Model Dairy, Scoops Up Bunch Of Silver, Takes Tin Box Containing Two Bonds From Open Safe.

During the past three weeks sneak thieves have given local Municipal police plenty to think about and while Chief of Police W. W. Turner has had several very important leads, still he has so far been unable to pin the jobs on any particular parties.

Last Tuesday afternoon a bold daylight robbery occurred on Main street when a slick, quiet thief entered the Model Dairy, scooped up a bunch of silver from the desk in the cubby-hole office, took a tin box from the safe, which was open, and departed before any one working in the building reached the front portion of the store. The tin box contained two $100 government bonds.

The Independent's Roving Reporters Try To Fathom The Question At Acton Game But Fail To Find A Solution — Same People Become Human Bloodhounds.

(By RICHES AND BRYDON)

It was the 21st of March, the first day of spring, and peculiarly enough the little town of Grimsby was blanketed by a two inch fall of soft wet snow. Friday night—and everyone was getting more and more excited for the highly rated Acton Tanners were on their way to the Livingston Ave. Ice Palace to play the final fracas in their two game goals to count series with the Grimsby Peach Kings. As early as 7:00 p.m. the first eager fans began to pick out their places for the game, which was easily the most crucial one for the Peach Kings this season. In fact one ardent bobby-soxer, who is in love with every Peach King player (especially Captain Pud Ried), told us she was going to be there early. When we asked her what time she thought would be early her face was all smiles as she replied, "Oh, I think I'll go over about 5 o'clock"

WHOOPIING COUGH DANGEROUS TO PRE-SCHOOL CHILDREN

Immunization Against Whooping Cough Does Not Always Prevent The Disease — It Probably Protects 80 To 90 Per Cent Of The Children.

(By Dr. JAMES M. MATHER, M.O.M. West Lincoln Health Unit)

Whooping cough is the most dangerous of the communicable diseases in the infant and pre-school child. It causes more deaths under the age of 5 than all the other communicable diseases combined. It is particularly dangerous in the first year of life. One of its most common and severe complications is pneumonia.

Immunization against this disease has been available for some years. The material used is whooping cough vaccine, either by itself or in combination with diphtheria toxoid. In either case, 3 injections each 3 to 4 weeks apart are needed. A booster dose should be given one year later. This immunization should be begun when the child reaches 6 months of age. Either your own private physician or the

DECISION RENDERED IN WILL CONTESTATION

Last Testament Of The Late Caroline May Durham Ordered To Be Probated By Judge Fuller.

In a judgment received Monday, Magistrate H. E. Fuller of Welland ruled that the will of the late Caroline May Durham of Grimsby involving an estate of about $16,000, be admitted to probate.

The will had been contested by W. W. Walker of St. Catharines on the grounds of lack of testamentary capacity and on the additional grounds of undue influence and fraud on the part of Arthur Hewson, former mayor of Grimsby, and chief residuary beneficiary.

Mr. Walker had claimed to be the beneficiary by an alleged previous will made in 1937 which was never found. He opposed the new will, claiming the late Mrs. Durham who died in 1945 lacked testamentary capacity, and charging Mr. Hewson with fraud and undue influence. ## FACTS & FANCIES

Frank Fairborn, Jr.

A WONDERFUL ACHIEVEMENT

On the 23rd day of July, 1908, when the citizens of Grimsby tendered a public banquet to the late John Hewitt, for his acquiring, constructing, producing and opening to the public The Village Inn, little did any of those public spirited citizens think, that on the night of Monday, March 27th, 1947, there would appear in that lovely dining room originally designed by the late Mrs. Hewitt, one of the world's greatest stars of stage, screen and radio, to be greeted by 400 people from all points of the compass in the great Grimsby Fruit Belt. It was a night to be remembered for long years to come by those in attendance and they were there from a sweet little girl of three years to a fine woman of 83 and some past years, and they all went into ecstasies over the appearance and the wonderful personality and singing of that great Irish Thrush, Lanny Ross.

The bringing of Lanny Ross to Grimsby was a bombshell in the ranks of night club operators, theatrical people and particularly to newspapermen. One City Editor said to me personally, "My God, has that woman gone crazy." I replied, "No. If she has I have. While everybody tells me I'm nuts, I'm not half as nutty as they are, for they have no visualization. Peggy O'Neil has and so have I."

Two Telegraph Editors on two big city dailies called me up and asked me the same question. I gave them the same answer. They could not understand how a little small town hotel could bring a star of the magnitude of Lanny Ross into its sphere. I very deliberately reminded them that while Grimsby was small in population compared to their overcrowded cities, that our people had more culture and intellect than their people had and appreciated the finer things of life, including Lanny Ross, and moreover our people had the advantage of being able to go and come as they pleased without being knocked down by motor cars and trucks and had the advantage of congregating in a hotel and a dining room the like of which did not exist in their cities or anywhere else in Canada.

Since the day that Gordon Hannah, The Farmer From Cayuga, purchased The Village Inn and that little Irish Colleen, Peggy O'Neil, stepped in as manager, things have hummed. The name "The Beautiful Oak Room" has become within a space of 16 months a byword over half of Canada and in many States of the Union. The climax was Monday night when Lanny Ross captivated 400 people.

The bringing of Lanny Ross to Grimsby was, to say the least, a rather daring proposition from a financial standpoint, but Peggy, like this writer, takes the stand that "nothing ventured, nothing gained", and while she did not make any great big pile of money out of the venture she did get a million dollars worth of advertising for the Beautiful Oak Room, The Village Inn and the Town of Grimsby. It will come back tenfold, not only to her and The Inn but to every citizen in this town in some manner or other.

All power to you, Peggy. You are doing a grand job. I feel within myself that if the late John Hewitt were here he would say, "Peggy, you are just doing what I always wanted done in this structure."

IT IS HUMAN TO ERR

Last week Facts and Fancies advocated an idea advanced by Councillor Cecil M. Bonham, that Town Council with the great mass of work that it has ahead of it should meet twice a month instead of once a month as has been customary for years past.

Since our last issue I have been talking to several old municipal men. I have checked the council records of past council meetings as printed in this paper. The old municipal men claimed that two meetings a month were not necessary if every Chairman of a Committee made a full and complete report at each meeting.

I find from The Independent records, from memory and talking with my colleague E. Bruce Murdoch of the Hamilton Spectator, that during the regime of ex-Mayor Edric S. Johnson, chairman of every committee had to lay a report on the table of what his committee had accomplished in the past month and what he proposed to do in the future. This system brought everything to light and eliminated a lot of questions and arguments and was a great saver of time, in fact no council meeting ever ran past 11 o'clock, which the press boys were tickled to death over. In fact many a busy meeting night was finished and we were all on our way home by 10 o'clock.

I hope that Mayor Henry Bull accepts this suggestion in the friendly and co-operative manner in which it is given and that he will step on his committee chairmen and have them bring in full and detailed reports and thus save a lot of time, worry and irritation, as well as eliminating the two meetings a month idea.

A PHILIPPIC

They held the funeral in Albany, N.Y., yesterday of a child hanged by a 14-year-old playmate. I can't help wondering about the feelings, if any, of those folks who are responsible for the crime features on the air, in the movies, in many of the kid cartoon books; of the photographers who make a Roman holiday of any cheap murder, the magazine editors who show close-ups of mass hangings and the law enforcement officials who pose grinning with law-breakers. To say nothing of judges who think five years on probation is enough punishment for murdering a man in a subway.

A COMPARISON

Comments on the price of maple syrup at $4 or $5 per gallon, a subscriber of The Ottawa Journal puts it:

Well, let us see. Very large numbers of people buy whisky at $4 and up—and not for a gallon but for one-sixth of a gallon. Rye whisky at $4 a bottle is $25 a gallon. Scotch at $4.85 a bottle is $29.10 a gallon. Maple syrup at $4 to $5 a gallon is about one-fifth to one-sixth the price of whisky or roughly the price the whisky would be if there were no taxes on it.

The writer certainly has something on the ball. In the first place, it is presumed that the maple syrup is pure stuff, not adulterated. That alone enhances its food value, while the whisky is "cut" or watered, and there is a tax on the water as well as on the whisky itself. Maple syrup is also preferable by far, a little of it goes a long way.

FOR JOHN L. LEWIS

John L. Lewis is being asked to seriously ponder over a report in the March Technology Review of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, the theme of which is the rapidly approaching end of the steam engine. This report reads, in part:

Today the iron horse, like the buffalo which it drove from the plains years ago, is itself threatened with extinction. Efficiency, economy and ease of operation are the principal factors for the rapid rise of Diesel locomotives, but other factors have also contributed to the retirement of steam engines. Not the least of these have been strikes in the coal mines which, with increasing frequency and seriousness of consequences, have disrupted rail services or threatened to do so.

Having regard to the rapid conversion to oil in the great navies of the world, and on so many ships, it is not difficult to foresee the end within a generation. There is evidence right at home, too, the installation of oil-burners in homes and big buildings.

Everything in its time, and the steam engine will keep company with the square-rigger the side-wheeler and the horse-drawn buggy. If Henry Ford endows his museum for Americana richly enough, there will be a place for the engine. He may have it set aside already.

Let this be a world of friends.

A MILLION MEDALS IN THE MAKING

Over one hundred ex-servicemen are busily engaged at the Royal Mint in Ottawa, turning out the thousands of war medals which will eventually be distributed to all former servicemen and women with the proper qualifications. In addition to the one million Canadian Volunteer Service Medals on order, over half a million of the Campaign Stars are to be struck. This gigantic task will take some considerable time to complete and officials at National Defence Headquarters emphasize that it will be quite a time before any distribution can commence. Shown above is a section of the main workshop at the Mint, where the "Gongs" are taking shape at the hands of the veterans.

SUPPORTS THE BILL

In the debate on the bill, initiated in the Senate, to legalize the sale of margarine in Canada, Senator J. J. Bench squarely put himself on the side of the consumer and declared that "it was a vicious prohibition to deny the people the right to buy any whole-some food product."

The Lincoln Senator introduced a new phase into the discussion, that of the constitutionality of the prohibition. When it first came into effect, far back in 1886, there was a quasi-criminal reason, meaning the product was regarded as unfit for human consumption or was fraudulently exploited on the market.

There never is any question, now, certainly not after the best medical brains of two continents had passed favorably on margarine as a food, about the value of the substitute for dairy butter.

WITH MARBLES COMES SPRING

They used to say it was a sure sign that spring has come when one sees the boys rolling marbles on the sidewalks. Many men can recall how in their youth they were encouraged by a spring-like day to set out on the walks and roll the little spheres.

Games of marbles are one of the oldest pastimes known to the human race. Marbles are said to have been in use as playthings by children from earliest times, and marbles are shipped to all countries. The fascination of the little rolling things has been felt by youngsters in all ages.

A helpful public service has been performed by youth organizations which have established regular competitions in this game and have adopted rules for the play, and have seen to it that the contestants followed the rules and played fair. Rolling and popping the marbles takes skill of hand and an accurate eye, and it gives boys a good start on sports.

'WAY BACK WHEN

Frank Fairborn, Jr.

And this week it's stew.

On June 23rd, 1908, one of the greatest gatherings of prominent men of the Niagara district gathered together in the spacious and beautiful dining room of The Village Inn to do honor to one of their fellow citizens in the person of the late John Hewitt. Over two hundred men sat down at the banquet tables and the press of the province was represented by 14 reporters, surely a large number of scribes to be present at a banquet in a village as small as Grimsby was at that time. This banquet was not only to honor Mr. Hewitt for his generous contributions in many ways to the betterment of Grimsby and the district, but it was also the formal opening of The Village Inn, then and now the finest furnished and best operated hotel in Canada, particularly in a town of such small proportions.

Beamsville Old Boys' Reunion, the first ever held in the Fruit Belt, was held on Sept. 28, 29, and 30th, 1908. What a hot time that old village had for three days and three nights. Fred Davey was the efficient secretary of this gathering and he put it over with a bang. The late J. D. Bennett, was the president of the committee in charge.

In 1908 Chicago Cubs of the National League won the World's Series from the Detroit Tigers of the American League, by four games to one. "Honkey" Shelton, please note and stop arguments.

Politics was the big issue in October of that month a Dominion election was being held. E. A. Lancaster was the Tory standard bearer and William D. Woodruff of St. Catharines was his Grit opponent. "Lan" carried the county by a huge majority. The Laurier government however, was returned to power.

The first Miehle printing press to be installed in a print shop in the Fruit Belt, was erected in the office of The Independent on December 2nd, 1908. Miehle presses, the finest flat bed presses in the world, were manufactured at that time in Chicago by the late John Hewitt. That press is still printing The Independent and giving as high class service as it did in 1908.

In December of 1908 the boys who loved their "foamy sud" were rudely interrupted in their libations by visits from Chief Inspector John A. Ayscough and a retinue of assistants. Grimsby was under Local Option at that time.

What is now Kidd Avenue, St. Andrew's Avenue and Bolton street was all strawberry, raspberry and vegetable patches when I went to Sunday School at dear old St. Andrew's, yes, I know you are surprised, but nevertheless I went. In the issue of The Independent of June 2, 1909, under the caption "Real Estate Notes" I find the following item "Active building operations will soon commence on the fine property in the west of the village where W. W. Kidd recently purchased eight acres of beautiful sandy land on the corner of St. Andrew's Lane and Livingston Avenue. Robinson and Werner have commenced operations on four new houses. The Baptist Church is erecting a new house for their pastor, Rev. J. T. Priest. C. H. Stubbs is preparing to build a new home on this property." Look at those streets today. One of the finest residential sections in Grimsby, Shafer Bros. have had a lot to do with that, too.

On Friday, May 28, 1909, at his home on the Buckbee Road, now a part of No. 20 Highway, "there passed away one of the Township of South Grimsby's finest citizens and a man that was prominent and looked up to by the people of the whole county" I quote now from The Independent "The late Thomas A. Theal served his township a great number of years as councillor and county councillor and was noted for his keen business methods and able handling of finances. In politics he was a Liberal, in religion an Universalist, a man of blameless life and high character." This gentleman was the father of Richard and James Theal, of Theal Bros. Grocers.

An ignorant man is smart in some respects. He is smart enough to keep out of an argument.

WHAT IS THERE ABOUT HOCKEY

—she took her supper! In spite of the wet snow which had been falling all afternoon, the arena was jammed with a capacity crowd, actually packed to the roof. As rows of fans sat on top of the upstairs dressing rooms and their heads were actually touching the roof. The crowd, mainly was made up of ardent Peach King supporters from Grimsby and the surrounding district. However, there was considerably more than a sprinkling of Acton followers present in spite of the fact that the special Acton train didn't arrive.

As the fans filed past the ticket windows their faces mirrored a variety of emotions. The hardened, indifferent faces of old "experts", bewildered, curious novices, the merry affability of half-cut characters, and the loud enthusiasm of the students. However, one seven year old school-boy we bumped into failed to show any enthusiasm when asked who he thought would win, he said, "I don't know an' I don't care." Why did you come? "My mummy made be." His "mummy" must have been a Peach King fan.

An air of cheerfulness was present all right, as the old igloo began to burst its seams with people, but it was a tense cheerfulness. The usual pre-game talk was there—Grimsby ladies objecting to the men's hats (a novel angle), and female teenagers expressing hero worship for their idols, the Peach King players, while the men laughed long and loud at non-printable, and to us non-humorous, jokes. The Acton fans at this point were objecting to the no smoking sign, although some ignored them and relaxed their nerves in spite of the firemen and helpful suggestions of nearby customers. There were only a few minutes until game time and any appearance on the ice was received with cheers, whistles and loud cracks, even the removal of the no smoking sign by young Freddie Schuch.

Time now is 8:25 and as the various officials walked across the ice to their posts, comments like "flat-footed, hollow chested, etc." could be heard. Old Tom Warner, strode out on the ice, hands in his pockets, wearing the ever-present dark grey woollen parka coat, on some inexplicable errand and the crowd gave him the usual loud ovation.

As the teams skated on to the ice, led by goalie MacMillan, they received an enthusiastic welcome. The favourites for Grimsby seemed to be Warner, Reid and Duke, while for Acton they were Marso and Kentner.

At 8:35 God Save the King brought the crowd to their feet, where they remained for the rest of the game, and three periods of fast, exciting hockey began. The first goal came five minutes after the start of the game and the Grimsby crowd went wild. The name Barry Blanchard was on every lip. Other events in the first period, notably a stiff body check by "Mush" Miller to Acton's No. 3 and a penalty to Warner brought forth such Grimsby comments as "Kill the referee" and "Get that old gentleman on crutches." As the first period ended the series was tied up, the tension was eased and the Grimsby fans felt safer.

The best cross-section of the crowd we obtained, was on our travels during the lull between the first and second periods. The following comments will give you some idea of the attitude of the people toward the game.

"One goal either way can clinch it, it's like a new game starting." (Small man with 5 o'clock shadow.) "If Grimsby wins I'll stay sober, if they lose I'll get drunk." (Pointing at me). "Look, some guy doing his homework."

After the beginning of the second period the temper of the crowd began to change and definite blood-thirsty tendencies were beginning to show. One little Grimsbyite shouted "If you hurt our goalie we'll smack your head." An Acton injury brought howls of glee from Grimsby and insults from Acton. After a penalty had been served by No. 3 of Acton the crowd rode him continually in a desire for his blood. Another evidence of blood lust came when a female cat-fight broke out, complete with scratching, slapping and hair-pulling. Cause—the game: Participants—Acton and Grimsby. Winner—a draw.

The first Acton penalty brought cheers from the Grimsby legions, but brought a different comment from one Acton fan who shouted "Throw that d... referee off." The screams of glee from the Grimsby fans heightened and extended to applause, cheers, stamping, screaming, shouting, laughing and howling when Hutchison scored the second Grimsby goal. However, this quickly changed to screams of derision and boos when FORMWORK FOR the substructure of the new addition to the powerhouse at DeCew Falls, as shown above, is reported well advanced, and the embedded parts of the turbine, including the speed ring and the scroll case, are now being installed. Although schedules at DeCew have been somewhat retarded by material shortages, construction is now being rapidly pushed forward, and it is expected that the new 70,000-horsepower generating unit will be in service by the fall of this year.

No 10 of Acton slipped one past MacMillan. This occurred in the middle of the second period, and the series was again tied up. After this the hockey slowed down and the crowd relaxed a trifle, waiting and hoping that the Peach Kings would again take the lead.

A second Acton penalty in the third period brought a rather original reaction from one ardent lady fan. Her first comment was "I've got a feeling something's going to happen." Then she told the penalized player to "Go on ya bum." Following that she came to the rescue of a confused player by pointing out the puck and lustily shouting "There it is."

Then things began to happen. "Hank" Hill again put Grimsby one goal ahead of their Acton adversaries and the fans let go with a terrific roar that almost lifted the roof from its steel supports. Grimsby fans jumped up and down yelling, stamping their feet, shouting their appreciation at "Hank" Hill, and when Hale clinched it a short time after, the customers and players alike, cut loose and you could hardly hear yourself think. It was then that the Peach King followers felt certain that Grimsby had done it again. Leading on the round 6-4 the red and white-shirted heroes were winners of round two in the O.H.A. Intermediate B playoffs. The good citizens of Acton had journeyed away from their cosy firesides in vain and they looked pretty dejected as they glanced at the scoreboard which read H-4, V-1.

What is it about a hockey game that turns an ordinary sane citizen into a ranting, raging spectator? What causes an ordinarily mild-mannered crowd of people to start shouting for the blood of a fellow human? If the answer is to try and bring fear to the heart of an opposing player or to try and make a referee change his decision, you're wrong. Because Referee Red Dunn told us after the game that he never hears the crowd. And Peach Kings Reid and Warner stated that they also rarely heard the crowd. Grimsby defense stalwart Normie Warner even went so far as to say that the crowd should calm down a trifle and give a little less one-sided support by cheering even the visiting team on occasions which deserve it. Why then does a crowd of rabid fans go so completely mad over a hockey game?

The explanation lies deep in the recesses of the human brain and to gain a complete answer you would have to consult someone far more versed in the Science of Psychology than your humble correspondents. We do have one comment, though, and that is that the fans were having a wonderful time supporting their teams and as each of those seventeen hundred hockey-minded citizens went home to bed that Friday night, a lovely feeling of warmth came over them, as in their minds they played again that game of hockey of which they were a part. For they are the crowd, and no matter how frantic they become, without them a hockey game would seem a very dull affair.

So to the fans we say, come on out and do it again, not only is it great to exercise your lungs and your emotions, but the Peach Kings players and executive, are all for your support. As Peter Tullman so eloquently stated—"We love 'em".

GENERAL
War of 1918-20. He contributed enormously to securing Ukraine's independence. But after the unsuccessful attempt of maintaining it, he, as thousands of other Ukrainians, adopted Canada for his motherland. At present he resides on a farm near Toronto.

The 77-year-old General held the attention of a full audience as he related some of his exciting experiences. His speech was interwoven with good humour, which brought many a smile.

He had the enthusiastic approval of the entire audience in expressing the hope that Ukraine may yet have her independence.

FOOD FOR DEVELOPMENT

Pointing out that the poor people eat may be compared to the soil in which plants are set to grow, nutrition authorities of the Department of National Health and Welfare urge more attention to the daily diet for growth, development and replenishment.

"The body's source of nourishment requires the same care and selection as is given to the soil," said a leading food authority. "Meals may be as nutritious as they are tasty. There are certain basic rules to follow—of a complicated regimen, simple realization and practice of well-known laws indicating essential food requirements."

As a guide to those who realize that health is wealth, and that more than cost, deserves consideration in food purchases, the government has printed a set of "Canada's Food Ruler". These, and her informal material, may be gained, on application, through principal Health Departments, or a Department of National Health and Welfare, Ottawa.

The venter of civilization sometimes gets mighty thin.

It defends their right to rest or worship as they shall choose as long as it does not take away the right of others to the same privileges.

(By RICHES and BRYDON and Pogachar (typist))

"Well, Rich, what'll we write about this week?"

"Dunno."

"No that won't be sufficient."

"All right, smart guy, what do you suggest?"

"I will tell a joke."

"I will go home." (Frosty silence).

"Advertisement: If the robber who stole the bottle of alcohol from our garage last night will return my grandfather's appendix, no questions will be asked."

"With apologies to the Classified Advt. Dept. of this splendid Weekly."

"I know another one, too, Rich."

"NO! NO! Not the rubber hose. Haven't you forgotten, little chum, that we're here to inform our good readers of the school magazine and it's needs."

"O.K., let's collaborate."

PLUGS DEPT.

The school magazine is sadly in need of contributions. The response of the students to this appeal has not been good. Here is a list of subjects which you are asked to expand your literary talent: 1. Commencement. 2. The activities of the Choir. 3. The Band. 4. Rifle Shooting. 5. Oratory and Verse speaking contests with special attention to the achievement of Olga Stepoway. 6. Staff Notes (sketches or profiles). 7. The tabloid Field Meet held last fall. Here we have a wide variety of subjects from which you can choose if, however, you are unable to find a subject to suit you among those listed above, pick one of your own. It can be anything concerning the school or school life or any other subject that may be of interest to school students. The need is great, so let's have some response.

Thus far your magazine committee has done a lot of hard work in preparation for the publishing date. There is a lot more hard work to do. In order to get the mag. on the streets before school closes we must have it in the hands of the publishers by May 1st. Between now and then all the material must be collected (some written) and organized, the advt. lined up, etc. It's a big job so do your part and get your contribution in.

SPORTS DEPT.

Jewon vs. Jones—School boys basketball finale—Results announced next week.

Late Flash:

Sixth Form's Madeline Pogachar in her first tussle with the big black balls of Kanmacher's Bowl-away tells us that she rolled up a score of 163 points. This was Madeline's first fling at the alley amusement and she threatened to break our arms if we didn't print the score.

Another Late Flash:

53 days before school closes... Still Another Late Flash: Glad to hear that former Bowl-away proprietor, Mr. George Kanmacher, has purchased the local Billiard Emporium. Chalk up the cues, men!

SPECIAL FEATURE DEPT.

Student Profile

This week from Mr. Merkley's IX-B comes likeable Richard (he hasn't got a middle name) Dousett. Tall (6'3"), large (175 lbs.), blonde haired, blue eyed, Richie will be remembered by students as the rugged defenceman of G. H. R.'s hockey team. And in the next few years this boy should also make a name for himself on the basketball court.

Richie likes to eat as is shown by his rather large dimensions, and his best-relished dishes are a lovely brown roast chicken and a sizzling steak smothered with juicy brown fried onions (eaten, of course, at different meals).

The big boy says his hobbies are wood-working and playing billiards. But girls (local girls that is) as yet hold for him no interest. His taste in clothes is conservative.

With regard to school Richie's favourite subject is English and favourite teachers are Mr. Awde and Mr. Merkley. After high school Richie would like to be a Forest Ranger.

This fifteen year old boy (Date of birth Sept. 17, 1931), was born and raised in Grimsby and has no brothers or sisters, however, we won't hold that against him. Although Richie says he doesn't want to get married we predict that before long he will be a favourite with the girls. Also in his future at G.H.R. we see considerable success for him in athletics.

And that about completes our Profile on IX-B's tower of strength (we ain't kiddin') Richard (he hasn't got a middle name) Dousett.

READ THIS

We're looking for someone who is interested in reporting school news. Riches and Brydon are through with good old G.H.R. come this June and wish to have someone to carry on the good work. We have done our best to build the "G.H.R. News" into a thriving column and hate to have any program we have made lost, so we're looking for someone to take our place. If you're interested come and see us. We would prefer to see students apply who are in middle or upper school but anyone is welcome. Who knows maybe we got another Damon Runyon in our midst.

That's all kiddies, short and sweet this week, isn't it?

"THE SEARCHING WIND" BEAUTIFUL LOVE STORY

A picture that has been heralded as one of the most important to come out of Hollywood in recent years, arrives next Wednesday at the Romy Theatre. It is Hal Wallis' production of Lillian Hellman's hit play, "The Searching Wind," co-starring Robert Young, Sylvia Sydney and Ann Richards, and report has it that the film takes its place among the movie greats.

"The Searching Wind" was adapted to the screen by Miss Hellman herself, and directed by William Dieterle. It tells a modern, adult love story set against the exciting background of world affairs that carry the principals from country to country.

Robert Young is cast as an American diplomat in love with Sylvia Sydney. Miss Sydney does not see eye-to-eye with him on matters that lie close to her heart and returning his love though she does, she refuses to marry him. On the rebound he marries Sylvia's socialite friend, portrayed by Ann Richards, whose father (Dudley Digges) owns an influential Washington newspaper.

Miss Sydney goes to work on the newspaper and her reporting job throws her into contact with Young again and again. Each time their love flames anew, and it is the way in which they and Miss Richards eventually work out their destinies, that is said to make "The Searching Wind" a picture of great interest and enjoyment.

The film introduces a new Hal Wallis discovery in the attractive person of Douglas Dick, who portrays the soldier son of Young and Miss Richards. Dudley Digges, stage star, and Albert Basserman are also importantly featured.

ARMY VETERANS WILL GET PERSONAL LETTER

OTTAWA, Mar. 21 — Army Headquarters today announced that a personal letter from Maj.-Gen. E. G. Weeks, Adjutant-General, is being sent to every fit general service veteran, honorably discharged from the Canadian Army (Active), advising him of the opportunities which exist in the peacetime Army. The letter also asks him to pass on this information to young Canadians and to act as Army spokesman in this community.

A small pamphlet enclosed with the personal message tells the story of how the new Army is organized; outlining the three Forces—Active, Reserve and Supplementary. The pamphlet gives a summary of the life of the professional soldier in the Active Force, which came into being on October 1, 1946.

It gives the answers on such matters as trades, the new rates of pay, pensions, living quarters, enlistment conditions and procedure and numerous other subjects in which the veteran will be interested.

With the pamphlet, a post-card is provided for those who are interested in joining the Active Force. All the veteran need do is fill in the card and drop it in the mail. After it has been received by Headquarters, the applicant will receive a private letter stating whether or not he appears suitable for enlistment and giving all other necessary instructions. This is the first recruiting appeal issued by Army Headquarters since the end of the war.

ACTION PROTEST THROWN OUT—After the PEACH KINGS took ACTION TANNERS into camp 4-4 on the round in the O.H.A. playdowns the Action management lodged a protest claiming that certain KINGS players were ineligible to play for the Red and White club. This protest was before the O.H.A. executive in Toronto on Tuesday afternoon and was thoroughly thrashed out. With the result that the PEACH KINGS were given a clean bill of health and start the third round play-offs on Friday night when SARNIA IMPERIALS will be the visiting team to the Livingstone avenue igloo. The return game will be played the first part of next week, but just where is not known at present owing to ice conditions. At any rate be on hand Friday night and see the KINGS go into action again against the boys from Lambton county.

CHITTER, CHATTER AND CHOTTER—Friday night was a tough night all around. I couldn't go near MARR'S MUSEUM on account of getting cold in my bum gimp; Big Chief Earl J. Marsh of the Niagara Packers was in the feathers with the flu; Harvey Shafer was under the covers with the same malady and a half a hundred other hot KING fans were confined within four walls for the same reason. Brother it is a good thing that HARMONY STEWART had all the Bell lines working into 447 and 538 and give credit where credit is due. Those little Blue Bells on the switchboard, who like to see a hockey game just as much as you and I do, were giving 1,000 per cent service.

THROCKMORTON JARVIS, Manager of the KINGS has departed this earth. He is now hibernating in the clouds. This is a great district we live in. Still playing hockey and well on the road to a championship and the buds are sprouting on the peach trees. I suggest to THROCKY that he figure on playing his final game between the PEACH KINGS and MARKHAM on BLOSSOM SUNDAY. Wouldn't that be an advertising stunt. It would have PEGGY ONFEL and her LANNY ROSS show beaten a mile. We may be a small town but nevertheless we are The Biggest Little Town in the World and The Independent is The Biggest Little Weekly Paper in The World. At Friday night's KINGS-ACTION set-to The Independent had no less than three crack reporters covering the scene of action. There was JACK-PINE McCRECHER our crack Sports Writer covering the actual game and ACT BRYDON and DON RICHES were covering the crowd story. Read their smart article on the front page. Good old DUNNVILLE. Always were Grimsby's pal and Grimsby was always their pal. Friday night. The PEACH KINGS had just cleared another stumbling block out of their path to the championship. My telephone rang incessantly all evening. I lay stretched on my downy couch at 11.30, day dreaming. Dreaming of pipe bands, brass bands, 25,000 people jammed in Maple Leaf Gardens watching the PEACH KINGS carry off the Intermediate Championship. The telephone interrupts my most blissful thoughts. It is DUNNVILLE calling. The Mudgett gang are congregated some place. The voice on the other end of the wire says "Bones, who won that game." I told him. He imparted that information to the gang and wherever they were they certainly raised the roof. I talked with the boy for a moment and gave him all the details that I had at my command and there was bedlam going on behind him. Thanks, DUNNVILLE. Thanks a million. BOGGY GREEN and BUS PHILLIPS backbone of Dunville hockey were in town on Friday night doing their best to help KINGS take the TANNERS. No matter what the suffering may be or the medical cost, I think I will report the rest of the KINGS home games myself and relegate WEE McCRECHER to the back benches. I understand that the last two games the WEE FELLER has had two of the loveliest flowers in the Fruit Belt for company. Can you blame me for wanting to get back on the job. The difference between him and me is that I appreciate that kind of company and he is so young that there is nothing in the world except a hot hockey player that interests him. He'll learn. I was young once myself. Busiest man in 47 counties, GEORGE MARR. Doing a great job, George, even in face of the fact that OLD TOM and MUSH MILLER have taken over the ownership of the ARENA. I presume they will give EARL CORNWALL a job selling tickets or sumpin. Got bailed out the other afternoon. Walking down street and a gentleman approached me. I walked by and didn't speak. Then I got a blast from the rear. It was OLD TOM WARNER all dressed up like Hodson's Horse. It was the first time in my life that I ever saw OLD TOM all dolled up like he had just stepped out of a beauty parlor. He certainly looked smart. I can understand now why Steve fell for him. The flu has been playing hob with the PEACH KINGS insofar as their coaches are concerned. POP McVEGAR got out of a sick bed on Friday night to be with the team and went back to bed immediately after the game. PUD REID was in bed and could not be present. Can you imagine that ADMIRAL DEWEY team with not a player with a score higher than 496 and yet they had a grand total of 2343. ELLA FAIR trundling for the VEDETTE team had a nice 697. PHIL DUNHAM with a 683 and LEO LA MERRITT with a 637 carried the VIMY team through to a three point win over the VICTORY team. They had five 500 or better games between them. Rolling them down for the VETERANS that little bank clerk, MARY GORDON came back to life with a 277-221-385 for a triple 763. Nice work. BERNICE BYFORD for the GOLDEN DROPS must have had a breath of Spring for she came back to form with a 223-220-279 for a triple 721. The PEACH QUEENS are sure perking up in spots. LITTLE WHIZZER has so many deals on the griddle that he thinks that he is living on Wall Street. Hope they do not all fall through.

AT ACTON

Kings put on a great display of hockey, and from our figures, de- served a goal lead for the first twenty minutes. However neither team scored. The Kings had two penalties served on them by a ref by the name of Hewittson, or Houston, or something similar. Warner got his customary penalty per game for charging, and the Kings were penalized for having this, but will not be credited with a penalty, thus keeping his record for no penalties unblemished. This old character, Kentner, who we understand is a former pro, playing around the same time as did Pud Reid and McVicar, got the gale for slashing. This farmer sure plays hockey as in days of yore. And you can have 'em, as far as we are concerned.

The first goal of the game arrived around the four minute mark of the second period. It was a very cheap effort, and a heartbreaker for Alf MacMillan. Marns got credit for it, as the puck came out from behind the net, apparently hit a player's skate, and into the net. Bolstered by this million dollar goal, the Tanners kept up their off- ensive, and at 11:15 Morton scored from Coy. Three minutes later, Townsley notched their third. Mar- no and Gellespie drawing assists. This third was actually the only deserved goal of the lot.

With only thirty seconds to go of the second frame, Johnny Hale, who is playing a much improved game of late, finally beat Evans, banging Hutchison's pass into the Acton tangle.

Looking back on that period, we find that penalties played an im- portant feature. The first tally came when the Kings were two men short, and Acton one minus. Miller and Mattison were off. On the Tanners third goal, Miller was in the cooler again, serving a very cheap so-called charging penalty. The Kings should have had another counter in this frame, as Warner went right in on Evans, had him beat a million ways, and missed the top right corner by a foot.

Except for a couple of occasions in the third, when the Kings looked bad on clearing from their zone, the Franchise dominated the third period. Pete Tallman had three great chances in quick succession, but each time his shots were smothered by Evans. Finally at the 3:50 mark, Kemp put out a lovely pass from the corner to Tallman, who connected to give the Kings their second goal. Just how many chances we had after that, just can't be ascertained, but the locals deserved the third and tying goal, but just could not beat Evans, due very largely to the heavy ice, which seemed to hamper the ac- curacy and shooting ability of the crimson tide.

Kentner served the only penalty of the third period, again for slash- ing, but the locals could not mono- polize on the one man advantage. Hale, Euke and Craig missed gold- en opportunities, as the Kings dom- inated the play for the final ten minutes.

Line-Up:

Acton—Goal, Evans; defense: Kentner, Riddall; centre: Gellespie; wings: I. Marns, Townsley. Subs: E. Marns, Bayliss, Bouch, Coy, Lindsay, Morton, L. Marns.

Grimsby—Goal, MacMillan; de- fense: Reid, Miller; centre: Euke; wings: Hill, Mattison. Subs: Craig, Hutchison, Hale, Kemp, Tallman, Blanchard.

AT GRIMSBY

No more do we see our forward lines sucked into the enemy zone, only to have a fast breakaway and an undeserved goal result. The Kings are primarily a high scoring team, but in the early part of the season, when they played all up on too numerous occasions, their scor- ing was needlessly overshadowed by goals scored by the opposing team, as the Kings were caught with their britches down in the enemy zone.

With all three forward lines functioning smoothly, the forward pass showing signs of improve- ment, the defense of Warner, Reid and Miller looking better every time out, and with MacMillan also getting the feel of the whole thing, we feel that although we are not impregnable, the team that beats the Kings out this year, will either have horseshoes (Owen Sound 1946) or a helluva good team.

One cannot ignore the fact that Normie Warner is coming in for a lot of undue criticism from the fans. Normie needs no defense from this department, being a Warner, however, I think its time to clarify a few points about is Warner. Always a forward, and rightly so, cause this guy is, con- trary to half witted reports, a very fast skater. With his speed he has the weight, and this he uses to good advantage. Probably the most aggressive member of the team, Warner's aggressiveness gets him into a lot of trouble, resulting in penalties. Now that he is back on defense, due to Hann's disastrous injury, Warner has proved that he can adapt himself to this rear- guard position. His penalties may prove to be costly, time will tell, but without Warner on that defense spot, the Kings would not have gone this far, and no other member of the team will deserve more credit than Warner when the whole thing is over for the year.

Trailing on the round by one goal, the Kings started the first period at a clip that left the Tan- ners completely cured. It took just four minutes and ten seconds for the locals to tie the series, and the kid that got the goal was probably the happiest guy in the world. It couldn't have happened to a nicer guy, and the goal which we will refer to as "One for the Marns" was a dark Warner and Blanchard went down the ice, a trifle faster than Harry Blanchard had done one day before, when he journeyed down the aisle with his new wife. The duo split the defense wide open, and the twine bulged as Blanchard beat Evans from close in. The ovation we shall remember for a long, long time.

Although the Kings had many chances during the remaining six- teen minutes of the period, Evans successfully defended his strong- hold. The pace was terrific, as the locals made their rushes, and then backchecked like demons, to give the Acton mugs little chance to worry MacMillan. Miller and War- ner served two minute penalties, but the Kings defensive play was tops, and the Tanners never got a clean shot on the Grimsby net. Hutchison was injured slightly, but returned to the game after repairs in the Grimsby dressing room.

As a matter of fact it was Hutch- erson who put the Kings into a temporary lead in the series at the 7:32 mark of the second period. A typical King rush brought Hutch- erson and Hale all round the Tan- ners net, and it was Hutch who beat Evans from close range.

Just two minutes later, as Acton saw the series gradually escaping from their grasp, turned on the pressure, and it was the highly touted Marns combination that clicked for the lone Acton tally. Not very long after this one, the puck again entered the Grimsby net, but Dunn had blown his tin whistle, as a pile up of players hid the puck inside the crease.

With Acton pressing strongly and playing well up in the Grimsby zone, one of those million dollar breaks entered the picture, as Frank Hill sped from his own zone to pick up a loose puck. Hill pushed the puck through an Acton player's feet, leaped over and around this only obstacle between him and the goal, went in on Evans and out- guessed him with a slide shot to the open left hand corner. This turned out to be the tinner, and to those critics who had old Ras- orback's age against him, we say snuff to you, with a couple of G.H.B. Yak Yak's thrown in for scripture measure.

Warner got the ate twice in this period, both for high sticking. Bayliss and I. Marns suffered the same fate, as Dunn and Kirkpat- rick ruled with an iron hand. The period ended with Grimsby leading three goals to one, and five to four on the round. Both teams quite evi- dently were tiring.

As per usual the final frame seemed to drag on and on. It was still anybody's game, and with seven penalties handed out, any- thing could have happened. It did. Johnny Hale's goal which made for a lot easier breathing by the local fans, came when Bouch had only five seconds to serve in a hooking penalty. Craig set up the play with a perfect pass to Hale, to let drive from what appeared to be a pretty tough angle, the rubber went straight to the far right corner. Six minutes and forty-five seconds to go. Warner missed a great chance to increase the Grimsby lead right after Hale's goal, and it was Evans who kept the score down for the Tanners. He's a great goalie.

Kentner, Tallman, Reid, Blan- chard, Marns and Bouch, who got the jug twice, served penalties in the final frame, as the Kings play- ed with understandable caution. MacMillan had a few toughenings to handle in the waning minutes of the game, but the Kings victory was assured. And the biggest crowd of the rink's history (since the alteration) slipped out into the brisk spring air. Spring has sprung.

URBAN HEALTH

With all its advantages, in facili- ties for comfort, sanitation and re- creation, a city is not a healthy place in which to live, unless one can get the advantage of fresh, clean air sometimes. Noting the smoke, fumes and dust hazards of a modern metropolis, the Depart- ment of National Health and Wel- fare urges all who would avoid the city's pallor to get into the country as often as possible.

BOLD SNEAK THIEF

thieves entered the home of Councilor Howard Ingelhart on Nelson Boulevard and departed with two suits of clothes and a small sum of money. These thieves were mighty slick for they slipped the catch on a cellar window without even marring the paint on the window frame or window sash.

WHOOPIING COUGH

Child Health Clinics operated by the Health Unit can carry out this immunization for you.

The immunization against whooping cough does not always prevent the disease. It probably protects 80-90% of children against the disease. If a child who has had the vaccine develops the disease, it will be less severe and there is much less chance of severe complications.

Whooping cough begins like a cold with fever, running nose, etc. A hacking, persistent cough appears and becomes more severe. The child has long bouts of coughing which usually end in vomiting. The characteristic "whoop" appears. Where the child has had the vaccine the whoop may never develop.

When your child develops this sort of infection you should call your physician at once. Proper treatment is essential to avoid complications. At the present time many children have respiratory infections with a cough almost like that of whooping cough. Your physician is the only one who can be sure of the diagnosis. Don't take a chance, call him.

Whooping cough is a placardable disease. That means that the patient and the other children in the family are quarantined. The adults are not quarantined. This is necessary if the spread of the disease is to be controlled. All cases should be reported to the Health Unit so that the necessary quarantine may be carried out.

Don't dismiss whooping cough as just another one of the diseases that all children must have. Remember, it is a killer. Have your child immunized. If the disease does develop consult your physician so that the severe complications may be avoided.

DECISION RENDERED

was withdrawn at the end of the case heard recently in St. Catharines. Mr. Walker is himself a beneficiary to the extent of $1,000.

Judge Fuller, in a written judgment, said he was impressed with the evidence given by Mr. Hewson, who was plaintiff in the case by a court order. He said Mr. Hewson had been a life-long friend of the deceased and her husband, and had been of great assistance to her following the death of her husband.

He said there was "not the slightest suggestion of undue influence on the part of the plaintiff." At the end of the trial counsel for the defence withdrew the allegation of fraud and said there would be no attempt to argue the point of influence.

Judge Fuller stated that evidence showed the deceased to have had mental capacity at the time the will was drawn up and that she knew exactly what her property was.

"I was impressed with the evidence of the plaintiff. As I said before, he and his wife and family were life-long friends of the deceased and during his lifetime, of the husband of the deceased. When Mr. Durham died the plaintiff was called into the house and his attitude then was, and I find that it continued to be, that he would give every assistance to the deceased and did look after her. It was interesting to note, and the evidence was not given by the plaintiff or witness on his behalf, but by the wife of the defendant Walker, that the first thing Mr. Hewson did when he came into the house the day Mr. Durham died was to hand Mrs. Durham $50 to help tide her over her immediate needs. The plaintiff went to a great deal of trouble in looking after the affairs of Mrs. Durham from then on and it was as a result of his care that she obtained a comfortable living."

He ordered the will admitted to probate and ruled that costs should be paid out of the estate.

P. H. Sullivan acted for Mr. Hewson and H. E. Harris for Mr. Walker.

HE CAME, HE SANG

the grant through took up the refrain and gave the Irish Colleen a great ovation. Following this Lanny sang a great many songs and choruses and had the crowd joining in with him. People listening in on CHML would certainly think that they were hearing a production from the Diamond Horseshoe in New York, instead of from The Village Inn, Grimsby. Lanny presented Peggy with a beautiful bouquet of American Beauty roses.

At midnight a sumptuous repast was served during the discussion of which a sextette of show girls entertained with wooden show clog and gymnastic dancing. Val and Doran were exceptionally clever in their ballet and ballroom dancing.

During the evening flashlight brigade was popping all over the big room as photographers took pictures of the guests at their tables. These pictures were developed, autographed by Lanny and then a snappy, the guests.

the dinner, pleasing feature of the evening was when the lights were dimmed, Lanny sang and his wife, Lanny, sang a ballad, and marching into the dining room came the neatly clad Oak Room waitresses each carrying a lighted tray of dessert while the orchestra played and the crowd sang O Canada and The Star Spangled Banner. It was a pretty sight, a song, idea, and a fine tribute to the singing guest of the evening.

Previous to appearing at The Lanny sang at a special benefit concert in St. Catharines, proceeds of which went to the Crippled Children's Fund. In the afternoon he made a special recording at CKOC in Hamilton and made a personal appearance at the Rymal Record Shop where he and his escort were nearly mobbed by the teen-agers of the Ambitious City.

During the evening and until the wee small hours dancing was indulged in by the crowd to the luring music of Darlie Wickens and his talented orchestra.

It was a great night and one that will be remembered for years to come by all who were present. To Peggy O'Neill and Gordon Hannah, the citizens of this district owe a debt of gratitude for giving them one of the finest evenings ever held in this district.

VETERAN REEVE

election to date. He is also one of the six ex-wardens of the county sitting on the 1947 council, having been Warden in 1941.

Warden Patterson, to the roaring applause of his colleagues extended the council's congratulations and best wishes to Mr. Sheppard who, with his face wreathed in smiles, expressed his pleasure at being present and at still being a member of the council.

Council approved the report of the General Administration Committee, presented by Reeve Len Hoar of Merriton, regarding alterations being made at the county buildings. Charity and welfare accounts were approved, upon the presentation of that committee's report by Reeve Frank Laundry of Beamsville.

Deputy Reeve John B. Alkens and Deputy Reeve Carmos Cosby of Clinton expressed the disapproval of the Agriculture Committee and their words were endorsed by council, over the inaction of the Department of Agriculture in instituting tuberculosis tests throughout Lincoln County as has been requested on several occasions. In his resolution to council, Mr. Alkens pointed out that the Department has repeatedly stated that the tests cannot be commenced due to the shortage of veterinary surgeons, and he added that there were two qualified men in the county ready to undertake the work if authorized by the Department.

Reeve Robert M. Johnston of Port Dalhousie presented the report of the Education Committee and the council approved a recommendation for a grant of $109 to the Lincoln County Music Festival. In adopting the report, council also went on record as being in favor of better public libraries in Lincoln by approving a grant to local school boards. The grant will be based this year on 25 per cent of the 1946 expenditures for library additions approved by the Public School Inspector, maximum grant to a school section being $10 for each class room.

The council accepted the resignation of Mr. John Hunter from the Beamsville Board of Education and Mr. A. W. Topp of the Township of Gainsboro was appointed to fill the vacancy for the remainder of the term.

During the somewhat lengthy sessions of the Finance Committee of the council under the chairmanship of Reeve Leslie Lymburner of Calver Township, council approved the appropriation of $14,500 for Charity and Welfare grants and $4,500 for patriotic grants during the present year. The annual grant of $1,600 was made by council to the Children's Aid Society and approval was also given for an increase in the rate from 90c to $1.00 per day to the Children's Aid Society for the maintenance of County wards. A grant of $150 was made to the Salvation Army Rescue Home and the committee informed council that the budget for 1947 will be presented at the May sessions of council.

Lincoln endorsed the action of the County of Victoria in seeking approval for the destruction of records of no further value at Registry offices, Surrogate and County Court Clerk offices in an attempt to provide more office space. The resolution of the County of Ontario seeking a bounty for the killing of fowls and an increase on the bounty for the killing of wolves. Lincoln also endorsed the stand of the City of Starnie in requesting the Provincial Government to assume the entire financial responsibility for the administration of the Children's Aid Society, and the stand taken by the County of Westwot regarding the heavy costs involved in the Dick trials in Hamilton.

VINELAND GROWERS

The total tonnage of 1946, it was stated, would have filled 870 freight cars. The company shipped more than 1,010,000 baskets of peaches, 200,000 baskets of cherries, a million baskets of strawberries, 18,000 baskets of plums, only 6,000 baskets were shipped in 1945, and some 300,000 baskets of grapes.

The directors of the company were elected, being L. Mel Hunsberger, H. E. Hunsberry, J. A. High, Delos Price, Arthur Smith, Ernest Culp, Roger Clark and L. E. Hipple.

REMEMBERING

The remarkably good memory of Walter Scott and a few of his contemporaries is worthy of notice. Scott's remembrance of what he had read and heard came largely into use, and by saying the time often elapsed on going through books of references, enabled him, without any apparent effort, to write one hundred volumes of fact, fiction and poetry.

He has repeated, with unerring accuracy, a ballad of ninety lines, which had been once read to him by his author.

He said that Lord Byron could recite, without a single error or omission, every line of his own that had ever been published, and was almost as faithful with respect to the poetry of Pope, Scott, and other authors whom he admired.

Thank you
HYDRO USERS

• The wintertime power shortage in Southern Ontario has been relieved with the coming of spring and the longer hours of daylight. In the winter months the shorter and darker days create a maximum demand on your Hydro system. Conditions in this winter season are such that Hydro plants are loaded to the point where it becomes necessary to ask for the co-operation of all Hydro users in saving electricity by every possible voluntary means. In the spring and summer season the urgency for conservation is not so great as in the fall and winter.

The voluntary saving of electricity in homes, offices, theatres, stores, and in industry, greatly relieves this condition. Your response was very helpful. To those who so willingly co-operated during this emergency period, Hydro says, "Thank You."

In many localities Hydro stations and lines are overloaded because of the delay in obtaining necessary new equipment. Therefore, do not waste electricity—use Hydro wisely at all times.

THE GRIMSBY INDEPENDENT

While life may "begin at Forty," medical science knows that, after that age, more people die of heart disease than from any other single malady. The Department of National Health and Welfare, in noting this fact, urges special care of the health at approach of middle age, with sensible diet and exercise, and avoidance of strain.

Pointing out that the old axiom "an apple a day keeps the doctor away" has some basis in scientific fact, health authorities in the Department of National Health and Welfare recommend fruit for maintenance of healthful diet, particularly when fresh vegetables are not available. Some uncooked fruit should be included in winter diets, say the doctors.

MAN WHO FOUNDED CANADIAN NATIONAL RAILWAY SYSTEM

By J. V. McAREE, in The Globe and Mail

Probably the most extraordinary journey in the history of Canadian railroads was not over a railroad at all. Nor was it over a right-of-way. Neither was it taken in a car. For that matter, most of it was not even through Canada. Not to keep indulgent readers any longer in a state of suspense, we come out with the flat statement that it was a trip by sleigh and foot from Portland, Me., to Montreal, and through one of the greatest forests then standing in that part of America. It was a trip from which the man who made it never fully recovered. He was in bed for six months afterwards; and had he not been a giant of a man, inflamed with a giant passion, the chances are he would either have perished on the way or would never have set out. The man who made this journey, which might be said to have been the beginning of the Grand Trunk Railroad, was John Alfred Poor, called by Stewart H. Holbrook, in the American Mercury, a forgotten railroad genius. Since he may be said to have laid the foundation for the Canadian National Railway system, Mr. Holbrook suggests that his memory might well be honored with a mural in the headquarters of the railroad in Montreal.

Poor was born in the backwoods of Maine in 1808, taught school and then became a lawyer. The great event of his life, apart from the journey, was seeing the first steam locomotive in New England make its first trip. He stated at the time and later reported: "It gave me such a shock that my hair seemed to start from its roots rather than to stand on end." The picture of Poor standing spellbound looking at the first locomotive had ever seen might well, as Mr. Holbrook suggests, be the subject of the mural. It does not appear in the Mercury story whether Poor was at any time a wealthy man. He seems only to have been a fanatic with a vision which showed him a railroad system embracing all New England and Quebec, the Maritime Provinces and even the Canadian West. He saw a railroad that was not merely a line between two points but an all-embracing system that would be a blessing to the territories over which it spread. So he began to build by talking. How he continued with his law practice while he drove and tramped over New England and Quebec, talking about a railroad to everyone he met, is not made clear.

But it seems that for several years his chief occupation was in travelling the country, inviting the "sons of the farmers and the merchants, and trying to decide where the rails should be run, if ever a company to build was formed. He did not try to do anything secretly, but announced to every one who listened what his plans were. He said that a road should be built between Portland and Montreal, and another from Portland to Halifax. The first extension was to be from Montreal to Chicago. When he had clearly in his mind what ought to be done he appealed to the wealthy citizens of Portland to come forward. They did so. A company was formed and some money raised. Then a similar group in Montreal, headed by A. T. Galt, agreed that a Canadian road would be built to connect with the American road at the border. It seemed for a while, as Poor roused the populace with his oratory, that the money would be quickly raised and the road quickly built. But at this point a Boston group, composed of wealthier men, entered the scene with the proposal that the road should be built largely with Boston capital and that the line should run from Boston, not Portland.

This propaganda interested the Montreal investors, and a meeting was arranged at which the Boston proposal would be considered and in all probability accepted. It was in February, 1848, that Poor in Portland heard of the move which seemed almost certain to shut off Portland in favor of Boston. He determined to go to Canada and make a final appeal to the Canadian financiers. Sending a man ahead of him to arrange for relays of horses, Poor set out in a sleigh into one of the most terrific storms that had ever swept the region. He could find only one man in Portland reckless enough to accompany him. In the early part of the journey the sleigh was able to keep to the roads, but soon roads were obliterated and Poor and his friend made their way over a waste in which the fences over which they rode were invisible. Sometimes they advanced seven miles in six hours. Part of the time the zero temperature fell to eighteen below zero and there was a wind.

The snow cut horse and men alike and they bled. Poor found that the only way to protect his eyes was to allow icicles to form and hang down from his eyebrows; then, with the end of a finger, he melted a small hole through which to see. In other words, his face was an ice mask. They travelled as long as it was light and were on the road again by daylight. Sometimes they were able to hire young men to go ahead and break trail. The last part of the journey before reaching the Canadian border was through a trackless wilderness. Poor said that the wind was no fiercer than it was not to be described at all. But eventually after five days of travel he reached Montreal and burst in on the assembled capitalists. His eloquence and the arguments he advanced to show that Portland was a better terminus than Boston prevailed and the Montrealers decided to throw their lot with Poor. On July 4, 1846, the first rail was laid at the Portland end and work began simultaneously in Montreal. The two cities were connected by rail in 1853, the Grand Trunk Railway was organized, and from that point it has become one of the great transcontinental railroads. Poor bought the American Railroad Journal, which grew in time into Poor's Railroad Journal, the classic publication of the industry. When he died in 1871 he had his pen in hand and was composing an article on railroad improvements.

DUNNVILLE TAX RATE WILL BE 54 MILLS THIS YEAR

(Dunnville Chronicle)

The tax rate in Dunnville will be ten mills higher this year than in 1946. This is a fact that must be faced, and everything the Council could do to avoid the increase was overshadowed by the fact that everything is up, and that the tax rate must follow suit unless the Town was to be faced with an overdraft at the end of the year.

There were many demands this year on the Town's finances, and grants totalling a new high. It was pointed out earlier in the year that if these grants were to be met, then the tax rate must go up in proportion, since it was the intention to follow a "pay as you go" policy if this were at all possible.

The Council met at a special meeting on Tuesday night of this week, and out of this meeting came the new tax rate. The matter was discussed thoroughly from every angle, but the discussions invariably swung back to the unwelcome truth—an increase or an overdraft—and since the latter is to be avoided at all costs the increase was made. Nor is Dunnville alone in this. An examination of the cities and towns around us convinces us that we are still very fortunate. Welland for instance is up eight mills this year, and last year went up five making a total of 13 mills for the two years; Grimsby, with a seven mill boost last year and 14 this is up 21 mills for the same period, and Crystal Beach according to an article recently published, anticipates a 21 mill increase this year. We could go on quoting dozens of other places whose increase leaves Dunnville's ten mills in the background.

The Board of Education met last Friday to consider their estimates and asked for a three mill increase, and on receipt of these figures, the Council went into special session to set the whole rate. Many things came under consideration before the rate was set, and not the least of these were the grants.

LOCKHART FIGHTS FOR YOUR RIGHTS, BUT WHAT'S THE USE

(Hansard Report, Tues., Mar. 18)

Mr. Lockhart—Mr. Graydon—Procedure on emergency powers resolution.

Mr. N. J. M. LOCKHART (Lincoln): Mr. Speaker, I rise either on a question of privilege or a point of order. A few minutes ago you declared this resolution carried. One minute afterward you called the orders of the day. Then for some strange reason, to suit the whims and fancies of a few, you asked—

Some hon. MEMBERS: Order.

Mr. SPEAKER: Order. I would ask the hon. member to resume his seat.

Mr. LOCKHART: On a question of privilege—

Mr. SPEAKER: I ask the hon. member to resume his seat. When the Speaker saw over twenty members rise in their places to ask for a recorded vote I believe it was the duty of the Speaker to call in the members in order to have a recorded vote.

Mr. FRASER: I protested before they stood up.

Mr. LOCKHART: What I am asking is this: The resolution having been declared carried by you, and the orders of the day having been called, on what authority or under what rule of the house—

Some hon. MEMBERS: Order.

Mr. SPEAKER: Order. I will not permit the hon. member to discuss the conduct of the Speaker.

Mr. GORDON GRAYDON (Peel): I desire to raise a question of privilege. I submit with great deference that this house should not, without the unanimous consent of the house, revert to other items of business that have already been decided upon and passed. I would have raised this question prior to the vote being taken except that some people might have regarded it as a move whereby this group was opposed to the resolution, which we are not. I raise the question now and say that I do not think the Prime Minister's influence in this house should be any greater than that of any other member.

Some hon. MEMBERS: Hear, hear.

Mr. SPEAKER: Order. I would ask the hon. member to resume his seat. I repeat that over twenty members rose, and according to the standing order it is the duty of the Speaker to call in the members. Moreover, as nobody protested at the time, I think—

An hon. MEMBER: They did.

Mr. FRASER: I protested.

Some hon. MEMBERS: Order.

Some hon. MEMBERS: Sit down.

Mr. SPEAKER: Order. I would ask the house to proceed with its business. Orders of the day.

Ask Government To Pay Murder Trial Costs

Adopting the report of the Special Road committee presented by Reeve William E. Headup of Galtwhorpe Township, county council last Tuesday authorised the committee to discuss the question of the replacement of the Roy Bridge with the members of the Wentworth county council. The bridge is situated on the boundary line between Caistor Township in Lincoln and Binbrook Township in the County of Wentworth.

The council also approved the recommendation of the Road Committee that Constable Norman Bilyard be paid at the rate of six cents per mile in traveling on county business instead of at the fixed rate of $70 per month. The change is to take effect April 1st.

Deputy-Reeve Robert Dawson of Niagara Township presented the report of the Industrial Home Committee and council approved the report of the Board of Management of the Industrial Home. In adopting the report of the Legislation Committee, presented by Reeve E. H. Ecker of South Grimsby Township, council endorsed the resolutions of the County Council of Kent in regard to the Municipal Drainage Act and the Railway Act. The resolutions were presented at the February sessions of council and were referred to the committee for study.

Two resolutions of the Council of the County of Wentworth, arising out of the recent trials of Mrs. Evelyn Dick, were presented to Lincoln County Council today for their endorsement as council commenced the second day of the March sessions.

In the first resolution, the Wentworth County Council pointed to the great expense to the County and to the City of Hamilton in respect to jury fees and other expenses which could not be reasonably anticipated or provided for in estimates. The resolution requested that the Administration of Justice Act be amended to provide that if any adjournment of a criminal case is requested by the Crown, the judge shall direct that all expenses chargeable to the municipalities be borne by the provincial government—unless he deems it just or equitable to do otherwise.
